The seat so vacated would be available for re-allocation again as per the allocation list. Candidates while accepting the seat allotment, if interested, can give their willingness for reallocation of seats, if available, as per their original choices.

Only the list of candidates, who are allotted specific institutions / courses as per the allocation list and from whom the acceptance of the admission has been received within the specific time frame, will be forwarded to concerned Institution(s) for granting provisional admission. Provisional admission letters for such candidates would be uploaded on the website, and also sent through the emails to the individual candidates.
