Instructions for Rectification of Defected NSP Applications

Students whose National Scholarship Portal (NSP) applications have been marked as "Defected" at the Institute Level are instructed to rectify the deficiencies and resubmit their applications by following the steps given below.

Step 1: Check the Defect Remarks

1. Log in to the National Scholarship Portal (NSP).
2. Navigate to My Applications → Application Status.
3. Check the remarks displayed under the Milestone section.
4. Carefully read and understand the deficiencies pointed out and the instructions provided for rectification.

Step 2: Rectify and Resubmit the Application

1. Navigate to the Edit Application section.
2. Make the necessary corrections and upload the required supporting documents, wherever applicable, including:
    - Income Certificate
    - Caste Certificate
    - Previous Semester Marksheet
    - Any other documents specified in the defect remarks.
3. Verify all the application details and ensure that the uploaded documents are correct, legible, and complete.
4. Submit the corrected application and forward it online through the NSP portal.

Important Instructions

- Students shall carefully address all the deficiencies mentioned in the defect remarks before resubmitting their applications.
- Ensure that all corrections and document uploads are completed successfully.
- The corrected application must be forwarded online through the NSP portal within the stipulated deadline.
- Failure to rectify and resubmit the application within the prescribed timeline may result in delays in verification and processing of the scholarship.

All concerned students are instructed to complete the rectification process within the stipulated deadline to facilitate timely verification and processing of their NSP scholarship applications.
